

Depending on your specific precinct in the Allentown and greater Lehigh County area, your ballot will feature contests for the Pennsylvania State Senate (4-year terms) and the Pennsylvania House of Representatives (2-year terms).

Pennsylvania State Senate Races

Senate District 14 (City of Allentown & Central Lehigh County)

- Nick Miller (Democrat — Incumbent): First elected in 2022, Miller is a former Allentown School Board member focusing on economic development, public school funding, and community safety.
- Omy Juriel Maldonado (Republican): Local community organizer running on tax containment, local business incentives, and government accountability.

Senate District 16 (Suburban & Western Lehigh County)

- Jarrett Coleman (Republican — Incumbent): A commercial airline pilot and former Parkland School Board member emphasizing fiscal discipline, voter integrity laws, and state regulatory cuts.
- Mark Pinsley (Democrat): The sitting Lehigh County Controller, running on transparency in government spending, reproductive healthcare rights, and expanding state infrastructure investments.

Senate District 18 (Eastern Lehigh County / Bethlehem area)

- Lisa Boscola (Democrat — Incumbent): Long-term state senator advocating for property tax reform, infrastructure grants, and bipartisan compromise.
- Scott Janney (Republican): Challenger advocating for reduced state spending, support for local law enforcement, and small business tax relief.

Pennsylvania House of Representatives Races

House District 22 (Allentown Urban Core)

- Ce-Ce Gerlach (Democrat): Community activist and former Allentown School Board member who defeated interim incumbent Ana Tiburcio in the Democratic primary, focusing on affordable housing, public school resources, and worker rights.
- Robert "Roby" Smith (Republican): Former Allentown School Board member running on public safety, municipal budget accountability, and neighborhood revitalization.

House District 132 (Allentown / South Whitehall Township)

- Michael Schlossberg (Democrat — Incumbent): House Democratic Caucus Administrator and incumbent representative focusing on mental health initiatives, small business grants, and public education funding.
- Caren Lowrey (Republican): Challenger focused on lowering inflation impact, cutting state taxes, and promoting school choice options.

House District 134 (Allentown / Emmaus / Salisbury Township)

- Peter Schweyer (Democrat — Incumbent): Chair of the House Education Committee, advocating for state funding equity for public schools, workforce training, and healthcare access. (Note: Schweyer faces no formal major-party challenger in District 134).

House District 183 (Northern Lehigh County / Slatington)

- Zach Mako (Republican — Incumbent): Military veteran and state representative prioritizing rural infrastructure, veteran benefits, and agricultural protections.
- Deirdre Kamber Todd (Democrat): Attorney and adjunct professor advocating for fiscal moderation, firearm safety education, and bodily autonomy rights.

House District 187 (Western Lehigh County / Upper & Lower Macungie)

- Gary Day (Republican — Incumbent): State representative emphasizing conservative fiscal policies, property tax relief for seniors, and energy independence.
- Rachel Cuevas (Democrat): Community advocate focused on environmental protection, equitable school funding, and healthcare affordability.

House District 131 (Southern Lehigh County / Upper Saucon)

- Milou Mackenzie (Republican — Incumbent): Small business owner emphasizing crime reduction, vocational education, and tax reductions.
- Meriam Sabih (Democrat): Writer and former journalist running on public school investments, clean energy initiatives, and healthcare access.

Finding Your Exact Legislative Districts

You can check your exact state house and senate district numbers by entering your home address into the official Pennsylvania General Assembly District Finder or previewing your sample ballot via the Lehigh County Voter Registration Office.