Who Pays for the Lehigh County Ballot Referendums?

Unlike candidate campaigns that rely on political action committees and individual donors, the three Lehigh County Home Rule Charter questions on your ballot do not feature private candidate committees or major dark-money Super PAC spending.

- Sponsor: The referendum measures were drafted, introduced, and voted onto the ballot directly by the Lehigh County Board of Commissioners.
- Funding: The administrative costs associated with placing these questions on the ballot—such as legal drafting, public notices, and printing sample ballots—are funded through normal Lehigh County municipal government operating budgets (taxpayer dollars).
